

FISHING SCHOONERS IN RACE FOR CUP AND CASH

GLoucester, Mass., Aug. 30.—Three fast fishing schooners, the pick of the American fleet, felt their way out to Eastern Point this morning in readiness to start in the open fishermen's race for the Lipton and Prentiss cups, postponed from Monday because of fog. A fourth entry in the race, the Mayflower of Boston, was tied up at her wharf, unable to complete because she arrived only yesterday from the banks with 200,000 pounds of fish in her hold, her hull foul and dragging a propeller that must be unshipped before she could race.

The Henry Ford of Gloucester, Captain Clayton Morrissey; the Elizabeth Howard of New York, Captain Ben Fine, and the Shamrock of Boston, Captain Marty Welch, were the schooners to dispute the speed-honors of the fishing fleet.

Sir Thomas Lipton is donor of the cup which, with a cash prize of $1,000, will go to the winner. A cup presented by Col. J. W. Prentiss and a prize of $800 will go to the vessel finishing second. Third place carries a cash prize of $300.

Early in the day the sky was clear and a brisk northwest breeze gave promise of real fishermen's weather before 10 o'clock, the hour set for the start.

SO. AMBOY Y. M. C. A. TO ENGAGE HERCULES 9

The game scheduled for last night between the South Amboy Y. M. C. A. and the South River Spinning Company baseball line was postponed on account of wet grounds. The game will probably be played next Tuesday at the South Amboy diamond.

On Saturday afternoon the cross-river team will travel to Parlin where they will engage the Hercules Powder Company nine of that place. At present the Hercules nine is in the cellar of the county industrial league, having lost every game played to date, while the South Amboy team is tie for first place with Helmetta.

BRIEF BITS OF SPORTS IN ALL FIELDS

There is every reason to believe that the Metropolitan league basketball games would go big here. Messrs Lowenkopf and Levin of the Amboys are at present considering an offer to take the franchise of the Brooklyn Professional quintet.

Harry Levine, manager of the Argonne alleys, is having the Hobart street alleys prepared for the coming season. It is expected that all of the fire department league bowling games will be rolled on these alleys, again this winter.

The second game of the Raritan Copper Works-Du Pont baseball series will be played at Parlin on Saturday afternoon. The Ingots won the first contest.

Members of the Police Social Club of the local department, will hold a final practice this afternoon in preparation for their shoot tomorrow afternoon with the Westfield police on the latter's range.

The representative baseball team of Jamesburg has encountered a losing streak. This combination dropped its last three games, the first losses of the present season.

Johnny Dundee's loss in Philadelphia on Monday night, has apparently disheartened the followers of the Italian featherweight champion Dundee will fight Benny Leonard for the tenth time in the near future.

In a short time now, the real dope on the middleweight championship boxing bout between Johnny Wilson and Harry Greb, will be known. The two men clash at the Polo Grounds in New York City tomorrow night.

The Perth Amboys will work hard on Saturday afternoon to defeat Freehold. A victory in this game will be necessary for the Poulsen combine to hold the Three M league leadership.

Promoters of horse racing at Freehold this week, are working to make this sport one of the leading branches in this state.

A great many persons who have followed the annual October baseball contests, which decide major league supremacy, are rooting for Cincinnati to win the National league championship. They have tired of seeing the Giants and Yankees in action.

Every class of boat will participate in the regatta of the Raritan Bay Yacht Racing Association at Keyport, over the coming week-end and holidays.

Cartet is confident that the borough baseball team will take the measure in the baseball contest on the local field Sunday afternoon.

There apparently is greater interest in the coming Dempsey-Firpo heavyweight championship engagement, than has been shown in a boxing championship contest in a good many years.

George the Greek, wrestling promoter, who was in charge of two shows in Columbia hall in this city recently, is planning to do some wrestling at the annual Trenton fair.

Manager Bill Sheehan of the Dublins is going to Tottenville on Monday next, with a combination strong enough to take the measure of the Aquehongs.

ORIOLES CLASH WITH H. S. INDEPENDENTS

The Perth Amboy High School Independents will endeavor to chalk up their fourth in row this evening when they clash with the Orioles of this city on the Wonderland Park diamond. Jimmy Kidd, a youngster rapidly coming to the fore, will be on the mound for the Orioles nine which has lost but one game this season. Manager Rhodes will use his regular lineup tonight with Hochheiser or Nedswick in the box, and Sammy Forsgotson behind the pan. Westerfield, Martin, Rhodes and Seaman will be in the infield while Larson, Rasmussen and either Ceres or Phillips will cavort in the outer gardens. The game will start at 6 sharp.

Keasbey in Action Sunday
The Keasbey Field Club will play the Hungarian Catholic Club at Woodbridge on this Sunday afternoon. The Keasbeyites were given a welcome by the local Hungarians last Sunday afternoon. Gardella will probably be on the mound for the visiting nine on Sunday.

POLICE HEAD TO TAKE PART

Will Shoot With Social Club at Westfield Tomorrow Afternoon—Practice Today

Chief Niels J. Tonnesen will shoot with the Police Social Club revolver team against the representatives of the Westfield department on the latter's range tomorrow afternoon.

The local police chief is an excellent shot and has showed up well in former events in this branch of sport. He has taken part in shoots staged by the Perth Amboy Rifle Club and also the Perth Amboy Gun Club.

Captain Barney Toolan, Bill Bachman, Charles Jorgenson, Frank Selboth, Sergeant John Larson and James Egan will complete the Amboy roster for this shoot. Another practice of the bluecoats has been scheduled for the municipal light plant range this afternoon, and all members of the club interested in revolver shooting are expected to be in attendance.

The revolver team captain is rapidly regaining his old eye, judging the way he can read a license plate late at night, and before the present season is over the chief and Messrs. Selboth and Jorgenson will have to step to hold their championship honors. Barney is also the regular backstop of the Police Social Club baseball team, and is as efficient in this branch of sport as he is in revolver shooting.

The shoot tomorrow afternoon will be started at about 2 o'clock.

She's Champ Farm Girl

Peggy Keith on the Farm

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON. — Uncle Sam's prize farm girl is Peggy Keith, aged 15, of Fauquier county, Virginia.

So well does Uncle think of Peggy and her accomplishments that he is taking her and some samples of her farm products all the way to Springfield, Mass., where they will be shown at the Eastern States Exposition of boys and girls club work at Camp Vail, September 16-23.

What Peggy has accomplished will be held up as an example of what ambitious girls and boys can do when they mix brains with energy and enthusiasm, and as a lesson to older folks on the advantages of adopting modern practices in agriculture and home economics. Starting as a member in girls' club work in 1916, at the age of 8, Peggy has climbed to the top in seven years. And as a visible product of her efforts can show a herd of 20 fine Shetland ponies, blooded Guernsey cows and bulls, prize-winning chickens, blue-ribbon colts and a stock of health and enthusiasm that would be worth millions in Wall street.

Plants Corn, Too
Peggy's first venture in agriculture was made as a member of the county potato club in 1916. She planted a small patch and worked it herself, with fair results. The biggest gain was in deeply rooting her enthusiasm for club work.

The next year she joined a corn club and put in a whole acre of corn. Things were coming fine. She had plowed and worked the land herself, and the hardest of the cultivation was past when cattle broke into the field and played havoc with the prospects. Next year, however, she had better luck and harvested 75 bushels of corn from her acre.

In 1919, at the age of 11, Peggy signed up with a canning club. She grew a tenth of an acre of tomatoes and canned and pickled enough of the product to feed the family over the winter.

So successful was she in her canning operations that her fruit and vegetables for two successive years pulled down the prizes in the open classes for canned goods at the Fauquier county fair.

Craved Work
It was outdoors, however, that appealed most to Peggy. She looked for a year round agricultural interest and found it in livestock.

From one setting of eggs she has developed a flock of 100 standard bred Langshans and Rhode Island Red chickens.

She joined the baby beef club and in 1919 grew two fine Shorthorn heaves, which she tended and fed according to methods advocated by the Department of Agriculture. In 1920, with a better knowledge of selecting her stock, she made a profitable business out of baby beef. In 1921 her Hereford beef calf won first prize at the Richmond State Fair, gaining 400 pounds in a short feeding period.

Peggy now plunged into the study of livestock in earnest. She took a course in livestock judging at the Virginia Agricultural College and soon could tell the good points of her animals as well as much more experienced judges. In a competition among club members, she was selected as Virginia's representative in an international livestock judging contest.

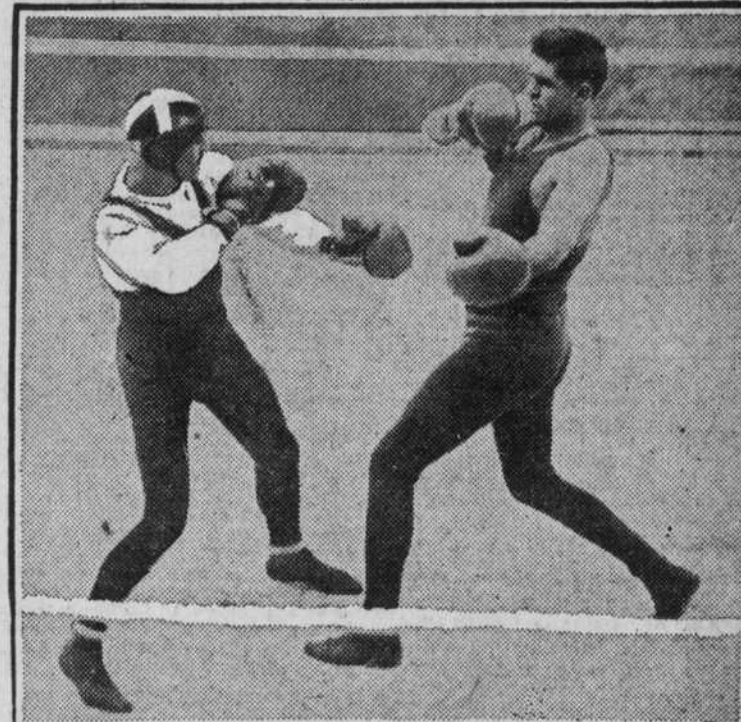

Peggy proves that bobbed hair and knickers do not necessarily denote the flapper, for certainly no one would accuse her of flapperism. But for the active, outdoor life she leads she finds the knickered garb and short hair both more practicable and pleasant than plaited braids and swishing skirts.
